

Company Contact:

Park Translations International

Phone: (212) 581-8870

Fax: (212) 581-5577

E-mail: info@parktranslations.com

Park Translations International Teams with Western Museum of Mining & Industry

New York, NY – Park Translations International has partnered with the Western Museum of Mining and Industry, in Colorado Springs, Colorado. The museum brings mining history to life for scores of visitors each day, maintaining a tradition of carefully preserved machinery and hands-on education programs. Park TI translated marketing materials and museum information into Spanish, German & French for international children and adults to enjoy as they tour the exhibit halls.

Park Translations International is a strategic language consultancy positioned to support communication throughout the world. Our business engagements span a wide variety of practice areas and technical specialties. We are headquartered in New York City, while maintaining operating offices and locations worldwide.

To learn more about Park Translations International, please visit our website at www.parktranslations.com.

